MARCH 22, 2014 - PROGRAM REVIEWS

Unity through Diversity - A Life of Dance Tribute performance for Dr. Daniel Lewis, dancer, teacher, choreographer, and author

I wanted to say that that Dance performances were excellent, especially, Prashant Shah.

Thanks to you, Dr. Chokshi, Uma and all your volunteers for putting together the program

- Annu

I enjoyed dancing at the show as well as comparing the event and witnessing the diverse talent South Florida has to offer at such close quarters.

Congratulations to you Bharti and your team at APAI for pulling off a great show with local artistes!

- Madhavi

This was a good program. Nice to see inclusion of other local artists of Non-Indian Heritage. Keep up the good work.

- Abdul M.

The performers, sponsors and coordinators worked too hard to let the performances be compromised by the sound quality. There should really be somebody there to step right up and fix any sound anomalies, such as the tambura being too loud for the choir, or the overhead words sounding garbled, etc... It was an excellent show, and people poured their hearts, souls, and talent into this, it was a privilege to see. It's good for society for shows like this to be performed. It just bothers me when something like the choir depends so much on sound quality and the sound quality doesn't do them justice. Thank you for asking for our feedback. I love APAI and look forward to participating in and seeing more of its projects.

You put so much effort into it, taking care of the finest details. I really wish the crowd turnout was more, to appreciate. I liked Sangeetha's dance, Prashanth's Kathak (a bit disappointed with the costume, but the spins and footwork were awesome), the FAU professor's dance was nice to watch too.

- Viji

Bhartiben again as usual it was a great program. Those people who missed it was their loss!

- Vinod

The show was very good yesterday and thank you for all your hard work in putting this together. It was lot of groups to co-ordinate and organizes. It will not be possible without your dedication and passion.

Thanks.

- Uma

Just a short note to thank you again for inviting the children to perform in the wonderful program you put together. We appreciate all the care you took to arrange for their appearance at the Unity through Diversity event, including the food and other accommodations and the children so much enjoyed being part of it.
